“ Happy Mother's Day, Mom! I love you and miss you so much. I wish you were here so I could take you out and spoil you today. The last Mother's Day we had was two years ago and I'll always treasure the memories and photos from that day. Please know that I'll always love you and miss you. I'm trying so hard to move forward and come out of this depression. I know you would want me to to be strong. I know you would want me to find happiness again and be fully present for the girls. As I slowly inch closer to that, I want you to know that there will always be a hole in my heart. A place that nothing in this life will ever fill. That hole is your absence from my life. We shared an unbreakable bond and the strongest kind of love, and the pain of losing you will never completely be gone. Today I want you to know how much you are missed by me and your grandchildren. We wish you could be here. We will carry you in our hearts and minds forever. So, in that way, you will never be completely gone. You'll live on forever. Until we meet again, sweet Mama, I'll carry you with me each and every day. Love Always, your baby, Carol. ❤️🌸🌸🌸

“ Hi mom! I just had an interview. It went well enough. I remember calling you or you calling me after stuff like this to see how it went. I miss you checking up on me and praying for me and wishing me the best. I miss being able to talk to you about everything and get your input. I miss seeing you be so excited and happy for me when something good happened. I miss you, mom. I think there will always be a hole in my heart, an empty place within me that will always long for your presence. You made me feel safe and secure and always had my back. I miss having my person here. What do I do without you? How do I keep going? I pray something works out so that I can make you, my girls and myself proud again. Feeling kinda down right now. I wish you were here. I love you mom. Always. Unforgettable in every way. ❤️🙏😭💔

“ Hi Mama! Oh, how I miss you. Some days it's a little easier and other days it hits me like a ton of bricks. I miss you so much, especially at Christmas. It's not the same without you. I'm actually starting to hate it, which makes me sad. You always made Christmas so special and I wanted to pass that on to my kids. I hope I still can.

If you were here, I'd talk your ear off about my job and ask you to pray for me. I'd tell you funny stories about the girls and how they did or said something funny and we'd laugh together. If you were here I'd tell you how much I love you and I'd hug you so tight.

I miss you sooooo much. I'm so afraid I'm never going to see you again. My faith is fading, but I'll always miss you and carry you in my heart. Love you, Mommy. Why did you leave me here alone? You know I can't function without you. 💔

“ I'll celebrate my first birthday without you tomorrow. I thought I was okay until this evening. You were the only one, and will forever be the only one who made a big deal out of my birthday. If you were here, you'd call me tomorrow and sing to me. Then you'd ask where we were going to celebrate. And you'd spoil me, like you always did. In fact, the last dinner you and I went to was for my birthday celebration last year. I'll never forget it. We went to Walmart afterwards and tried on Halloween masks. I have some great pictures of you, Mia and me from that day. So, what do I do without you here to sing to me and make a big deal about my birthday? It will just be another day. I will not be celebrating. I'll be thinking of you and wishing you were here. I'll be wishing I was there with you. I don't like it much without you here. I'm very lonely. I'll always need you. So, what do I do? I love you and miss you, sweet sweet mama. I can't wait to see you again. I pray you're happy where you are and that you miss me as much as I miss you. 💔💔💔💔

I can't wait to see you again. I love you, mom. I love you so so so much. My sweet angel, my prayer warrior, my best friend, my partner in crime. Life will never be the same. This hole in my heart, the tears, the grief and the overwhelming sadness will never cease. Your absence hurts so bad. It has cut me down to the core and I'll never be the same. I just hope I can carry on with my head up for the girls sake. I can't fall apart because I don't want the girls to see. But, they miss you too, mom. They still think of you, cry about you and wish you were here. You've left us, but you'll never truly leave us. We'll think of you every day for the rest of our days. We'll wonder what could have happened if things happened differently. We'll mourn you forever. Now, I have to work on making the best of the rest of the time we have here without you. It sucks. It sucks bad. God help us.

“ Remembering the good times we shared makes me smile, but it also makes me cry because we can no longer have any time together. I'm so sorry for taking the time we shared together for granted sometimes. As scared as I was to lose you, I just couldn't understand how final the goodbye would be. I just couldn't imagine you not being here. Now that you're gone, I'm completely lost. So much of my identity was wrapped up in you and who you were to me. So, part of me died with you. I have so many regrets, so many things I wish I could have done differently, just so much. I just hope you know how much I really loved you, even when I wasn't at my best. I would do and give anything to have one more day to tell you and show you how much I love you. We'd shop, eat, watch a movie and talk. I'd hug you and kiss you and hold your hand. God, if only I had just one more day. I know I won't get that, but I think about it a lot. I think about you all the time. I pray you are happy up there. I pray you'll watch over us. We still need you. I still need my mom. I love you. 💔

There are so many things I forgot to ask you - so much I wish I could have done for you when you were here. I still don't know how to process you being gone. How do I keep going with this huge hole in my heart?

Ava and Mia are getting so big and I hate that they don't have you around to watch them grow. They don't have many people in their lives and it breaks my heart. They miss you. Sometimes they talk about you and cry, which makes me cry. It's not fair. I wish we could have you back. I know that's selfish, but that's how I feel.

“ I can't believe I'm starting a new year without you. I was telling the girls about how we used to go out on New Years Eve and bang on pots and pans. They thought that was hilarious. You were the coolest mom and so much fun. I miss you so much. I wish you were here with us. We still need you in our lives. I just hope you are watching over us from heaven. God bless you, sweet mama. Hugs and kisses from your baby girl. XOXOXOXO

“ Celebrating Christmas will be very difficult this year because of your absence. God, how I wish you were here. Through the tears, I will remember the wonderful memories of Christmases past. You always made this time of year so magical and special for me and I want to pass that onto my girls.

We will keep you alive this season. I bought a memory ornament for us. I also bought a gift for Ava and Mia from you. It's something I know you would have gotten them if you were here and something I know they'll love too.

We'll be thinking of you and missing you. I hope you are happy and at peace in heaven. I love you so much and always will. You'll always be with us in our hearts and minds and spirit. God bless you, my sweet angel, and Merry Christmas. 💜
