“ W. C. has been a "son of the Carroll family" for longer than my 72 years. Living on the farm in Shady Grove Sunday dinners were special. Mother would have it ready, but would wain until "her other son, W. C" got there. He continued to be one of us until God called him home. Carlene and I were the first people that he married and I was the last person that he baptized. Last week I called him to let him know that I was coming to see him. As usual, he said that he was a other day closer and that he was ready to go meet God. This morning I called to tell him that I was on the way, however he was already with God. I believe that it was Carie who sent me a text letting me know that he passed away yesterday. There are so many events that I could tell you about. I loved my brother and Shirley.
